HERE ARE THE KEY RIGHTS THAT YOU HOLD, AS A CHILD, AND THAT EVERY OTHER CHILD ALSO HOLDS:

1. The Right to Be Born Free and Equal to Others
Children are equal and have those rights. You should not be treated badly or unfairly because of how you look, what you believe, where you live, what language you speak, whether you are rich or poor, whether you have a disability, whether you are a girl or boy, or who your parents or guardians are. Everyone is equal and has the right to respect.

2. The Right to Be Happy
No one should live in fear or violence. This means that no one should be in danger of abuse, violence, or any other type of harm.

3. The Right to Food and Shelter
Every person has the right to food and shelter. This means that no one should be hungry or homeless.

4. The Right to Education
Every person has the right to education. This means that every child should be able to go to school.

5. The Right to Play and Learn
All children should be able to play and learn. This means that children should be able to have fun and develop their skills.

6. The Right to Rest
All children should have the right to rest and sleep. This means that children should be able to get enough sleep.

7. The Right to Be Protected
All children should be protected from harm. This means that children should be safe and secure.

8. The Right to Be Heard
Children have the right to be heard in any court of law. This means that children should be able to speak up for themselves.

9. The Right to Have a Family
Children have the right to be with their family and parents.

10. The Right to a Name and a Nationality
Children have the right to a name and a nationality. This means that children should be able to have their own identity.

11. The Right to a Nationality
Children have the right to be citizens of a country. This means that children should be able to live in a country and have the right to vote.

12. The Right to a Passport
Children have the right to a passport. This means that children should be able to travel.

13. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to take care of themselves. This means that children should be able to make their own decisions.

14. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be taken care of. This means that children should be able to rely on others to meet their needs.

15. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be protected. This means that children should be able to be safe from harm.

16. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

17. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

18. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

19. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

20. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

21. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

22. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

23. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

24. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

25. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

26. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

27. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

28. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

29. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

30. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

31. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

32. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

33. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

34. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

35. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

36. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

37. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

38. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

39. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

40. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

41. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

42. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

43. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

44. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

45. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

46. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

47. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

48. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

49. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

50. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

51. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

52. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

53. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

54. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

55. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

56. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

57. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.

58. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with respect. This means that children should be able to be treated with dignity.

59. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with kindness. This means that children should be able to be treated with love.

60. The Right to Be-take
Children have the right to be treated with equality. This means that children should be able to be treated the same as others.